Client Reference – Energy Market Advisory

Dear Sir or Madam,

CPG Sp. z o.o., part of an international group headquartered in Houston, USA, confirms that Dr. Eng. Paweł Włoch (EnergyAI) prepared for us an analysis regarding the viability of investing in a battery energy storage system (BESS) in Poland.

The scope of the study significantly exceeded our initial expectations. Instead of a standard project assessment, we received a comprehensive analysis of market conditions, which enabled us to identify the key factors affecting the profitability of this type of investment.

A particularly valuable aspect of the cooperation was not only the delivery of answers to the questions we had raised, but also the identification of critical areas that we had not previously considered, yet which are fundamental to making informed investment decisions.

As a result, we gained a much broader and more informed view of the market situation, and we have since approached further investment discussions in a completely different way.

We particularly appreciate:

- the ability to integrate market, technical, and investment expertise,
- the independence and accuracy of the conclusions drawn,
- the systemic approach characteristic of solutions developed within EnergyAI.

In our opinion, Dr. Eng. Paweł Włoch and EnergyAI provide advisory services at a level that clearly exceeds standard project analyses.

We strongly recommend working with them.

Sincerely,

COO Ihor Kozolup
